

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT FOR VISITANT PROFESSOR

PUBLIC CALL (EDITAL) #003/2024

Number of vacancies and areas of knowledge:

1 (one) on International Relations; with emphasis on:

❖ Trade.

And 1 (one) on International Relations; with emphasis on:

❖ Brazilian Foreign Policy.

Areas of knowledge to be contemplated:

International Relations; with emphasis on Trade: International Relations; Humanities.

International Relations; with emphasis on Brazilian Foreign Policy: International Relations; Humanities

Requirements:

I – any Doctoral Degree obtained for at least 2 (two) years;

II – Physical and mental health for the job;

III – Other documents required (UFABC will intermediate visa process for foreigners)

Remuneration and term of employment:

❖ R$ 10.481,64 monthly per 40 weekly hours of work for one year, annually extensible up to 4 (four) years for foreigners

Required documents and application:

I – any Doctoral Degree

II – Curriculum vitae or generated on <http://lattes.cnpq.br/>

III - List of the items of the curriculum presented for the Title Test provided for in item 7.2, according to the model available in the Selection Process section of the website www.ufabc.edu.br

IV – Curriculum items supporting documents such as published articles, book chapters, certificates etc. (check curriculum analysis chart on the appendix)

V - research project and/or work plan, referenced and contextualized to the special program, area of knowledge of option and to the Pedagogical Project of UFABC, with a maximum of twelve (12) pages

All documents must be sent as a single zip folder (up to 200MB) until 27/march/2024 (BRT), through the website:

<https://sig.ufabc.edu.br/sigrh/public/home.jsf>

(menu Concursos / Concursos abertos /  Inscrever-se no concurso)

Detailed characteristics of the vacancy:

Special Teaching, Research or Outreach program:

International Relations; with emphasis on Trade:

Teaching activities include historical perspectives and topics on the dynamics of International Relations that have as their organizing axis the debate on Brazil's trade policy and its relationship with the international trade system, including the processes of "re-shoring, near-shoring and friend-shoring" of value chains.

I) In teaching, the visiting professor will teach, among others, subjects from the Bachelor's degree in International Relations at UFABC, as listed below:

- International Trade Negotiation Regimes and Brazilian policy

TOPICS Brazil's participation in the Havana Charter negotiations and in the first rounds of GATT. Free trade and right to development. UNCTAD and General System of Preferences. Brazil and the WTO. International coalitions and the commercial G20. Expertise in the Dispute Resolution System. Participation of the business sector and popular sectors in defining the Brazilian strategy. Regional trade agreements. New themes in international trade.

- International Dynamics of Productive Investments

TOPICS

Emergence of the multinational company. Concept of transnational production. Outsourcing and "global sourcing". "Pull and push" factors. National government strategies to attract investment. Trajectory of Foreign Direct Investments in relation to international trade and the economic growth. Union relations and environmental standards. Role of Unctad and the WTO.

- Private International Law

TOPICS Concept and object of Private International Law. The conflict of laws in space. Elements of connection (territory, nationality, domicile, autonomy of will). Questions relating to personal status of the individual and legal entity. International contracts. Process and interjurisdictional cooperation. Arbitration.

- Introduction to Law and Fundamentals of International Law

TOPICS Origin and conceptualization of Law. Sources of Law. Subjects of Law. Legal orders state and legal disciplines. Law and Justice. State and International Community. The Constitutions and International Relations. Study of the origins, history and legal-philosophical foundations of Law International. Description of the main legal families on the planet and their relationship with the system international legal. Distinction between Public International Law and Private International Law. Formal and material sources. Law of International Treaties. Relationships between standards international and domestic legal systems.

- Public International Law Topics

TOPICS Introduction to Law and Fundamentals of International Law. Subjects of International Law

Audience: States, International Organizations, subnational entities and the human person. Domain international: land, sea, river, lake and air. Representation of the State, law diplomatic and consular. International responsibility of the State. International common spaces and common heritage of humanity. Means of peaceful resolution of international conflicts. 'Jus cogens'. Global governance and new regimes.

- Special Topics in International Law, Multilateralism and Human Rights

TOPICS Concepts and terminologies. Historical statement, dimensions and characteristics of human rights. Interculturality and human rights. International politics and human rights. Global protection and regional protection of human rights. Case studies of selected gender topics, race, ethnicity, environment, generational issues and public policy.

- Non-State Actors and International Relations

TOPICS Identification of non-state actors in International Relations. Historical process of affirmation of non-state actors in international relations. International trade union movement. Movements international humanitarian and peace. World Social Forum. Subnational entities in Relations International. Other non-state actors. Social participation in Forums and Organizations International. Brazilian foreign policy and global social organizations.

II) In Research and Postgraduate Studies, the visiting professor will work on subjects in UFABC Postgraduate programs, participate in research activities in collaboration with groups already established at the University, implement new lines of research and guide or co-supervisor students of undergraduate, scientific initiation and/or postgraduate work. Among the Postgraduate Programs at UFABC, Visiting Professors will be able to work in Postgraduate Studies in International Relations; Postgraduate degree in World Political Economy; Postgraduate degree in Human and Social Sciences.

III) In extension, the visiting professor must assist the International Relations course in creating and acting in extension projects, aiming at developing dialogical relationships with social, economic and political actors in the region and/or outside it, enabling students to contact with the practical aspects of international relations and their agents.

International Relations; with emphasis on Brazilian Foreign Policy:

Teaching activities include historical perspectives and topics on the dynamics of International Relations that have as their organizing axis the debate on Brazil's foreign policy and its relationship with the international system, as well as with the domestic level.

I) In teaching, the visiting professor will teach, among others, subjects from the bachelor's degree in International Relations at UFABC, listed below:

- History of Brazilian Foreign Policy

TOPICS Territorial formation of Portuguese America. Brazilian foreign policy since Independence until the end of the Cold War. Relationship between foreign policy, internal context and development strategies. Autonomy and dependence. Insertion in the region and economy worldwide. Relations with the United States. Articulation between Brazilian foreign policy, pursuit of development and construction of the national State.

- Contemporary Brazilian Foreign Policy

TOPICS Brazilian politics in the post-Cold War. Continuity and inclusion of new topics on the agenda Brazilian foreign policy. Neoliberalism and neodevelopmentalism in relationships international companies in Brazil. Regional integration initiatives. South-South Agenda.

- Non-State Actors and International Relations

TOPICS Identification of non-state actors in International Relations. Historical process of affirmation of non-state actors in international relations. trade union movement International. International humanitarian and peace movements. World Social Forum. loved subnationals in International Relations. Other non-state actors. Social participation in International Forums and Organizations. Brazilian foreign policy and social organizations global.

- Foreign Policy Analysis

TOPICS Foreign policy analysis: genesis and historical development; theoretical, conceptual and methodological tools; comparative perspective; actors, formation of preferences and domestic coalitions; political-bureaucratic analysis, institutional design and decision-making process in foreign policy; political regimes and foreign policy; cognitive analysis in foreign policy; foreign policy and social classes; foreign policy analysis by thematic areas; analysis of formulation of foreign policy in Brazil.

- Regional Integration - Theories and Experiences

TOPICS Theoretical foundations of integration processes, in their economic, social, political and cultural: liberalism, functionalism, realism, Marxism, constructivism, etc. The old man and the new regionalism. Regionalism and globalization. Supranationality, intergovernmentality and sovereignty of nation-states. Role of non-state actors, civil society and multinational companies. Comparison between integration trajectories in Asia, Africa, Europe and the Americas.

II) In Research and Postgraduate Studies, the visiting professor will work on subjects in UFABC Postgraduate programs, participate in research activities in collaboration with groups already established at the University, implement new lines of research and guide or co-supervisor students of undergraduate, scientific initiation and/or postgraduate work. Among the Postgraduate Programs at UFABC, Visiting Professors will be able to work in Postgraduate Studies in International Relations; Postgraduate degree in World Political Economy; Postgraduate degree in Human and Social Sciences.

III) In extension, the visiting professor must assist the International Relations course in creating and acting in extension projects, aiming at developing dialogical relationships with social, economic and political actors in the region and/or outside it, enabling students to contact with the practical aspects of international relations and their agents.

Additional information:

Further information can be found on the Public Call (Edital) 003/2024, available at:
<https://www.ufabc.edu.br/concursos/docentes/inscricoes-abertas> (Portuguese only)

Results of the public selection will be published within 60 days from the publication of the Ordinance of designation of the Commission of Selection, on <https://www.ufabc.edu.br/concursos/docentes>